

MCC – New Construction Building Tour

Join us for breakfast, networking and a tour of Metropolitan Community College's new Construction Education Center, an applied – learning environment designed to train a new local workforce for the construction industry.

Hear from Dean Nate Barry on the College programming and ways to get your company engaged. The tour of the Construction Education Center will show high-tech simulators, hands-on learning practice areas and collaborative workspaces for students to learn building components such as mechanical, electrical, plumbing and much more...
