

Construction Trends – Seismic Shifts on the Way

Gregg Schoppman, Principal, FMI – Gregg will give a synopsis of the current and emerging construction trends the construction industry is facing. This includes insights into some of the construction industry's complex business challenges and will highlight what GC, Cm, and A/E firms of the future should be doing.

Learning Objectives:

- Investigate value migration and its impact on the A/E/C industry
- Discover the explosion of mega projects and what it means for your business
- Determine where funding for projects is coming from and where it is going

For 70+ years, FMI Corporation has been a leader in passionately helping engineering and construction firms throughout North America develop their firm's vision, teams and succession plans. Additionally, FMI provides a full cadre of E/C business services.
