

October Program

The Value of Collaborative Technology in Design-Build

Please Join the DBIA Kansas City Chapter for a happy hour discussion of Engineering Collaboration Technologies. With speakers from A Zahner Company, BNIM Architects and McCownGordon, we'll discuss how technology is impacting project timelines, reducing overall effort and increasing collaboration between firms using Design-Build practices. Automation, democratization of design and technology trend questions will also be asked of our speakers. Take this opportunity to see how industry leaders are adopting high-tech solutions to a variety of Architecture, Engineering and Construction problems.
