

Your Construction Project Fully Captured

Brandon Holley from Multivista will be showing how technology, documentation, and artificial intelligence are helping improve communication, collaboration and mitigating risk for all parties involved in renovation or new build projects.

Multivista has been serving the construction industry for over 25 years. Each year new technology is added to our offering to help team communicate more effectively. Traditional photography has now been augmented by UAV, 3D Laser Scanning, 360 Cameras, Measurable Photos, Cloud Access & Artificial Intelligence.

We're helping knock down the walls of mistrust, doubt, and confusion with neutral 3rd party documentation. Helping each member of the Design Build Entity access information that was previously completely hidden or difficult to obtain and help speedily resolve issues as they come up.
