Join us for a behind-the-scenes look into modular interior construction! Manufactured construction supports customized prefabricated solutions for interior spaces. Real-time, interactive 3D software integrates with CAD, Revit, and manufacturing software, bridging the gap between the client design team and the manufacturer. Especially suited to projects where cost, quality and schedule certainty are of the essence, this type of construction promotes safety at the project site, indoor air quality, environmental sustainability, design control, and the ability to integrate technology seamlessly into the space.
